Sex has been a sacred and secret subject especially in Africa. It is hardly mentioned, not to talk of it being discussed even among legitimately married couples. Many go into marriage without knowing exactly what to do and how to do it. Many others know what to do and how but without taking advantage of the romance that spice sex and the diverse approaches to sex. Taking undue advantage of the fear of discussing sex, many suffer sexual dissatisfaction in silence without seeking counsel or knowing where to seek out expert advice. Sadly, no one is left out in the pain and anguish in sexual failure. The pastors (married or not married) are all affected directly (if they are married) or indirectly (if they are not married). Affected couples are just barely managing their relationships, while they pass on aggression on the larger society. Revd Joseph in "Sexual Bliss in your Marriage" notes that most of marital dissatisfactions are sexual dissatisfactions or failures. He has provided tips for reactivating marriages that have failed or are failing in this aspect. "Sexual Bliss in your Marriage" is a book for every married couple that wishes to keep their marriage fresh and sexually active from the honeymoon till death separates them. The book acknowledges that the major problem of couples is traceable to sexual failure. It notes that an inactive sex life could lead to frustration in the partners resulting to anger, quarrelling, fighting, depression and all other forms of emotional imbalances. "Sexual Bliss in your Marriage" is strictly for the legally married and abhors all illegal sexual activities which often result to disease and the flight of the spirit of God in people leading to untimely death. The book is a must read for young couples who may fearlessly express their love for one another and for older couples whose sexual life may be waning. Priests, Pastors and Bishops may also find the book useful for counsell
